*A repeat refers to the length of a design printed on fabric before that design is repeated. It's easy to find: starting about an inch or so from the cut edge, look for a specific design element, such as the point of a leaf or a dot, close to the selvage and then see where it occurs again; the distance between the identical elements is the lengthwise repeat.

The size of the repeat determines how much fabric you need. The person at the fabric cutting counter can help you determine how much fabric to buy based on the size of the repeat and the number of repeats you specify.

The most suitable prints for the focus fabric in Tiffany's Garden have a repeat between 12" and 24." If using fabric with a 24" repeat, you need 4 repeats. If using fabric with a repeat smaller than 24", you need 8 repeats. Optional: 1 additional repeat for the back.

Making the queen size quilt? Note that the yardage requirement specified above yields 32 4-Patch Wonder blocks (my name for blocks made with 4 identical patches) -- exactly the number required for the queen size. You may wish to get an additional 4 repeats and make extra blocks, giving you more to choose from and assuring you have some left over for the back of your quilt or for another project.
